Weights and Measures. In 1868 an Ordinance was passed by, the Legislative Council of British Columbia establishing a standard of weights and measures for the Colony, which Ordinance received the assent of the Governor and became law. Therenpos Inspectors of Weights and Measure were appointed to see that the law was carried into effect, whose duty it was at all reasonable times to enter into any shop, store, warehouse, or place within the districts in which they had authority to act, where any goods, commodities, or other articles were bought, sold, or ex-changed, or exposed or kept for sale, or weighed for conveyance or carriage, and NEW BOOT & SHOE STORE. to examine and try all weights, measure steelyards, balances, or other weighing machines with the copies of the standard weights and measures required to be provided under said Ordinance, and with power also to seize all weights, measures steelyards, balances, and other weighing machines that might then and there be found to be false und untrue, and forfeit the same to the use of Her Majesty. I was also provided that any person having in his possession, or in his shop, store, or warehouse, or place of tusiness for purposes of weighing or measuring, or for sale, any false weights, reasures, steelyards, balances, or other reighing machines or weights of a kind realisted by said Ordinance, or neglect-Inspector of Weights and Measures for the purpose of examination or proof in the way of his duty, any weight, measure, steelyard, balances, or other weigh ing muchines, or obstructing or hindering any Inspector of Weights and Measures in the discharge of his duty, should for every such offence forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars. It was also further enacted that every person using any weights or measures, steelyards, using any weights or measures, steelyards, halances, or other weighing mechines which shall not have been examined, and proved, and stamped as such, and which shall be false, or a weight of any kind prohibited by said Ordinance, for the purposes of buying or selling, weighing or measuring, or otherwise for purposes of trade or business, should forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars; and that if any person should so as aforesaid use any such weights, measures, steel-yards, belances, or other weighing machines with intent to cheat or defraud, every such person should be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction be panishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dol exceeding six calendar months. The wisdom as well as the propriety and necessity of the enactment of such a law was admitted by every one—as alike just to the buyer and the seller. For a very short time the law was strictly enforced, on the principle, we presume that a new broom should always sweep clean. But having served the purpose for a very short period it was allowed to he looked upon as a dead letter. That an important law of this nature should have thus been allowed to die a premature death, shows how very little attention is paid to those matters of detail by the general government which, in order monicipal authorities, wherever municipal institutions have an existence. Victoria, not the alightest attention is paid to the subject. Every huckster has his own weights and measures, by which he buys and sells, and there is no one to call in question the legality of the standard which he has set up for his own use and guidance. We would not go so far as to see that no two pair of reales in and guidance. We would not go so far as to say that no two pair of scales in town are precisely alike in standard of weight, but we do know that in many instances if subjected to a critical examination they would be found widely to differ. And is every case of differences alikes the hunce on the same and the same an widely to differ. And is every case of difference either the buyer or the soller must be a loser thereby. He who buys a hundred weight of grain, for instance, or he who sells it, does not know with any degree of certainty whether what he buys or sells coutains the proper weight or not for there is no certified legal standard of weights in use by which he can depend upon getting or giving full weight. In buying coal, wood, or any other of the various commodities required for domestic use, subject to weight or other of the various commodities required for domestic use, subject to weight or measurement, there is no legal standard, bearing the impress of authority, by which the buyer has the assurance that he gate the full weight or measure of what he pays for. This should not be so in a city like Victoria We do not allege that those who sell by weight or measurement would knowingly take advantage of their customers, but where the law does not compel business men to observe a legal and uniform standard of weights and measures, there is at least room for temptation to those who may not be temptation to those who may not be scrupelously honest to practice fraud upon their nieghbors. We have a law to regulate these matters, and we would respectfully suggest to the Government the propriety and also the necessity of putting it into practical force, otherwise it would be better to reveal it.

Memory presides over the past. Fell s Coffee over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs. but Fell's Coffee has but one shrine and that is every breakfast table. Its aroma walks the earth like a spirit and Its aroma walks the tale at every respectable can be found for sale at every respectable dealers in British Columbia. Beware of spuly *

Morthern Telegraph Cable.

(Seattle Intelligencer.) Owing to the frequent references made to the cable between the mainland on the American side and Vancouver's Island, it may not be amise, while noticing the late failure to repair a portion of it, to give the reader some general idea of that submerged line, and at the same time to designate more particularly than has been done where the breakages which have so often occurred exist, and also to mention what steps have been taken to obviate the difficulties and interruptions which have beretofore been experienced. In order to connect Victoria with the mainland in the least expensive and best way, several of the large islands, which separate as it were the Straits from the Gult of Georgia, bave been availed of. In consequence the Telegraph Company only found it necessary to lay a cable across the comparative'y narrow passages of water between them. I required nevertheless nearly seventeen miles to where another section of cable, a mile long, is laid to its shores. Another long line then extends across San Juan Island, and then a cable, six miles in length, has to be again used to reach Sydney Island. From Sydney Island a fourth cable, a mile and a half long, reaches James' Island, and from there, where the water is a mile wide, the last one of the series of submerged lines, on this northern coast, connects with Vancouver Island, at a point about twelve miles north of Victoria, the wire used on land running thence into that city.

Since the laying of these five cables, but very little interruption has anywhere oc-

very little interruption has anywhere ocbottom, the ledges of rocks which traverse it in all directions, and the swift tidal currents which prevail, the cable is subject to so much chafing that interruptions and repairs servants and could not have been without inwere not only of such fr-quent occurrence as to cause much inconvenience and expense, but it has also been ascertained by Superin-tendent Lamb, who endeavored to repair i again last week, (and to whom we are inlebred for the in'ormation contained in this article,) that it is now injured to such an extent as to necessitate the procuring of a new obtained, be laid across that body of water about six miles further north, from Careen Creek on Lepez Island to Park Hill on San Juan Island, between which points he has found a tolerably even ocean bed, with a mud and shell surface, and but little current sweeping over it. Mr. Lamb has accordingly ordered from San Francisco the requisite amount of cable, and be expects it here in the course of five or six weeks, when it will be at once laid, and the land lines on the two islands swung around so as to connect with it. In the meantime telegraphic communication will be kept up by stationing operators at the end of the line on Lopes and San Juan

Latest from the South African Dismond Fields

The Natal Mercury of April 4th says: It does not seem probable that large fortunes will ever again be made at diamond digging, as long as the present prices rule. At any rate rapid fortunes will not yet awhile be realized from the enterprise. Diamonds may be found as required nevertheless nearly seventeen miles of I inch cable to accomplish the object it had in view. Connecting with the land line at Burrows Bay, on Fidalgo Island, a cable is laid from there to Lopez Island, a distance of eight miles; thence a land line is stretched access Lopez Island to a point opposite the southern extremity of San Juan Island, to where another section of cable, a mile long, line then food the contend with enpressive heat and sink food the contend with entry could get a couple of years ago. LARGE DIAMONDS AT PRINL .- A diamon weighing 140 and 3-16 carats has recently been unearthed at Pniel and one of 17 carats by the same party (a Transvaal one) at the same place. The large stone had been publicly exhibited at Klipdrift, at one shilling per head, the proceeds to go towards the funds of the hospital there. Paiel will probably come once more into favor with the diggers. It is certain that it was by no means worked ont only people left it for the fabulous wealth of the New Rush and other, at that time, more highly-favored spots.

An 18-carst white diamond is reported to bave been turned out at Dutoitspan.

113 CARATS.—A white stone of this size has been unearthed at the New Rush.

The Friend's correspondent mentioned the finding of a diamond of 124 carats, by a Mr. Henderson, of Natal. The gem is said to be a white one and without flaw.

GOLD QUARTE. -Mr. T. Caines, F. R. G. Exploration Company 1 cwt. of very rich, and 14 cwt. of average gold bearing quarts from the interior gold fields,

TRAPPIC TO THE DIAMOND FIELDS .- According to the "Times of Natal", a passenger who returned from the Diamond Fields to Natal, counted 270 wagons, laden with merchandise, on their way to the Fields. At the same time 300 wagons laden with goods were on their way to the Fields from the Cape Colony. The diggers will, it would -eem, be well provided
